(Racketeering Conspiracy)

The Grand Jury charges:

The Enterprise

1. At all times relevant to this Indictment, MATTHEW

MADONNA, STEVEN CREA, SR., a/k/a "Wonder Boy," JOSEPH DINAPOLI, STEVEN CREA, JR., DOMINIC TRUSCELLO, JOHN CASTELUCCI, a/k/a "Big John," TINDARO CORSO, a/k/a "Tino," JOSEPH VENICE, JAMES MAFFUCCI, a/k/a "Jimmy the Jew," JOSEPH DATELLO, a/k/a "Big Joe," a/k/a "Joey Glasses," PAUL CASSANO, a/k/a "Paulie Roast Beef," CHRISTOPHER LONDONIO, TERRENCE CALDWELL, a/k/a "T," VINCENT BRUNO, BRIAN VAUGHAN, CARMINE GARCIA, a/k/a "Spanish Carmine," RICHARD O'CONNOR, ROBERT CAMILLI, and JOHN INCATASCIATO, the defendants, and others known and unknown, were members of an organized criminal enterprise known as La Cosa Nostra ("LCN" or "the Enterprise"), whose members and associates engaged in crimes including murder, attempted murder, assault, distribution of controlled substances, making extortionate extensions of credit, operating illegal gambling businesses, wire fraud, mail fraud, selling untaxed cigarettes, mail fraud, and other offenses.

2. La Cosa Nostra ("LCN"), including its leadership, membership, and associates, constituted an "enterprise," as that term is defined in Title 18, United States Code, Section 1961(4), that is, a group of individuals associated in fact. The Enterprise was an organized criminal group that operated in the Southern District of New York and elsewhere. As demonstrated by their ongoing coordination, communication, and efforts to work together, the Enterprise constituted an ongoing organization whose members functioned as a continuing unit for a common purpose of achieving the objectives of the Enterprise.

3. La Cosa Nostra, also known as the "Mafia," operated through entities known as "Families." Six Families operated in the New York City and New Jersey area, namely, the Genovese Organized Crime Family of LCN, the Gambino Organized Crime Family of LCN, the Luchese Organized Crime Family of LCN, the Colombo Organized Crime Family of LCN, the Bonanno Organized Crime Family of LCN, and the Decavalcante Organized Crime Family of LCN. The majority of the defendants named in this Indictment were members and associates of the Luchese Family.

4. Mafia Families each operated through groups of individuals known as "crews" and "regimes," most of which were based in New York City. Each "crew" had as its leader a person known as a "Caporegime," "Capo," "Captain," or "Skipper," and consisted of "made" members, sometimes known as "Soldiers," "wiseguys," "friends of ours," and "good fellows." Soldiers were aided in their criminal endeavors by other trusted individuals, known as "associates," who sometimes were referred to as "connected" or identified as "with" a Soldier or other member of the Family. Associates participated in the various activities of the crew and its members. In order for an associate to become a made member of the Family, the associate typically needed to demonstrate the ability to generate income for the Family, and/or that the associate was capable of committing acts of violence.

5. Each Capo was responsible for supervising the criminal activities of his crew, resolving disputes between and among members of the Family, resolving disputes between members of that Family and members of other criminal organizations, and providing Soldiers and associates with support and protection. In return, the Capo typically received a share of the illegal earnings of each of his crew's Soldiers and associates, which was sometimes referred to as "tribute."

6. Above the Capos were the highest-ranking members of each Family, commonly referred to as the "Administration." The head of each Family was known as the "Boss," who was ordinarily assisted by an "Underboss" and a "Consigliere," or counselor. The Boss, Underboss, and Consigliere were responsible for, among other things, setting policy, resolving disputes between and among members of the Family, and resolving disputes between and among members of that Family and members of other criminal organizations. The Administration of each Family was also responsible for overseeing the criminal activities of the Family's Capos, Soldiers, and associates, and was at times called upon to make decisions regarding those criminal endeavors.

7. The Boss, Underboss, and Consigliere supervised, supported, protected, and disciplined the Capos, Soldiers, and associates, and regularly received reports regarding their various activities. In return for their supervision and protection, the Boss, Underboss, and Consigliere typically received part of the illegal earnings of each crew.

8. At most times relevant to this Indictment, MATTHEW MADONNA, the defendant, was the Street Boss of the Luchese Family. As the Street Boss of the Luchese Family, MADONNA managed the affairs of the Family on behalf of the formal boss, who is serving a life sentence in federal prison for murder, among other crimes.

9. At most times relevant to this Indictment, STEVEN CREA, SR., a/k/a "Wonder Boy," the defendant, was the Underboss of the Luchese Family, and JOSEPH DINAPOLI, the defendant, was the Consigliere of the Luchese Family.

10. At most times relevant to this Indictment, STEVEN CREA, JR., DOMINIC TRUSCELLO, JOHN CASTELUCCI, a/k/a "Big John," and TINDARO CORSO, a/k/a "Tino," the defendants, were Captains or Acting Captains in the Luchese Family.

11. At most times relevant to this Indictment, JOSEPH VENICE, JAMES MAFFUCCI, a/k/a "Jimmy the Jew," JOSEPH DATELLO, a/k/a "Big Joe," a/k/a "Joey Glasses," PAUL CASSANO, a/k/a "Paulie Roast Beef," and CHRISTOPHER LONDONIO, the defendants, were Soldiers in the Luchese Family.

Purposes of the Enterprise

12. The purposes of the Enterprise included the following:

a. Enriching the leaders, members, and associates of the Enterprise through, among other things, distribution of controlled substances, robbery, extortion, making extortionate extensions of credit, wire fraud, mail fraud, operating illegal gambling businesses, selling untaxed cigarettes, mail fraud, and other offenses, and other crimes;

b. Preserving and augmenting the power, territory, and financial profits of the Enterprise through intimidation, violence, and threats of physical and economic harm, including murder; and

c. Keeping victims and citizens in fear of the Enterprise and its leaders, members, and associates by: (i) identifying the Enterprise, its members, and its associates with La Cosa Nostra or the "Mafia;" (ii) causing and threatening to cause economic harm; and (iii) committing and threatening to commit physical violence, and

d. Protecting the Enterprise and its members and associates from detection and prosecution by law enforcement authorities through acts of intimidation and violence against potential witnesses to crimes committed by members of the Enterprise.

Means and Methods of the Enterprise

13. Among the means and methods by which the defendants and other Enterprise members and associates conducted and participated in the conduct of the affairs of the Enterprise were the following:

a. To protect and expand the Enterprise's business and criminal operations, members and associates of the Enterprise murdered, threatened to murder, assaulted, and threatened to assault persons who engaged in activity that jeopardized: (i) the power and criminal activities of the Enterprise; (ii) the power of leaders of the Enterprise and the status of its members; and (iii) the flow of criminal proceeds to members and associates of the Enterprise.

b. Members and associates of the Enterprise generated or attempted to generate income for the Enterprise through dealing in controlled substances, robberies, extortion, making extortionate extensions of credit, wire fraud, mail fraud, operating illegal gambling businesses, selling untaxed cigarettes, and other offenses.

c. Members and associates of the Enterprise kept victims and citizens in fear of the Enterprise and its leaders, members, and associates by: (i) identifying the Enterprise, its members, and its associates with the "Mafia"; (ii) causing and threatening to cause economic harm; and (iii) committing and threatening to commit physical violence;

d. Members and associates of the Enterprise protected the Enterprise and its members and associates from detection and prosecution by law enforcement authorities through acts of intimidation and violence against potential witnesses to crimes committed by members of the Enterprise.

e. To avoid law enforcement scrutiny of the Enterprise's criminal activities, members and associates of the Enterprise conducted meetings surreptitiously, typically using coded language when speaking on telephones, and avoiding discussing LCN activities in locations they suspected to be monitored by law enforcement surveillance.

14. To effect the goals of the Enterprise, its members worked together and coordinated with each other to perpetrate a number of different criminal acts and schemes, including, but not limited to, the following:
